Hi Matthew,

We would like to bring to your attention that over the past few weeks, we have made every reasonable effort to coordinate with the Owners Corporation (OC) and the appointed contractor, FIXD, to facilitate essential repair works at the property. This is now our second attempt to proceed with the repairs. To clarify, all relevant parties – including the OC, FIXD, our agency as the managing agent, and the rental provider are fully committed to commencing and completing the necessary repairs as promptly as possible.

We are more than willing to provide any further information the renter may reasonably request to facilitate cooperation. However, we respectfully request that VCAT take into account that we are NOT the party impeding progress.

Hi Chawakorn,

Please refer to below response in blue, as I have communicated with FIXD prior to this email. I will get the remaining requested details from FIXD, but I can't guarantee that they will reply within 24 hours.

Given that coordinating this repair requires the involvement of multiple parties and significant resources, your cooperation is not only appreciated but essential to ensure the work can proceed without further delay.

Thank you.

Kind Regards,

Johnson Tan

Dear Johnson,

Your three Section-86 notices, lodged by registered post on 27 June 2025, seek entry at 08:00 AM on 7, 8 and 9 July—only **12 days** lead time—and leave the “Details attached” box unchecked. Entry therefore remains conditional.

SEND WITHIN 24 HOURS

1. Contractor legal name, licence number & 24-hour mobile – Pending FIXD’s reply
2. Day-by-day work scope (rooms, tasks, time estimates) for the full 7-day schedule The first stage of the repair involves reducing the moisture levels in the affected bedroom, as outlined in the Notice of Entry. During this drying process, the contractor will require daily access to the room in order to monitor and record moisture readings. At this stage, they are unable to provide specific time estimates for this phase, as the duration will depend on how quickly acceptable moisture levels are reached. Once the area has dried sufficiently, they will proceed with the necessary repair work. Please note that because the contractor has not yet assessed the current site conditions in full, they are unable to provide a definitive timeline or scope for the repairs at this time.
3. Risk statement – water / power interruptions & noise levels – Pending FIXD’s reply
4. Public-liability / PI insurance certificate – Pending FIXD’s reply
5. “Tax invoice.pdf” **and** the alleged “tenant-confirmation” screenshot FIXD has been engaged by the Owners Corporation, as the source of the leak originates from a common area. The OC will cover the cost of the repairs once the work is completed. At this stage, FIXD is unable to provide a quote, as they have not yet been able to assess the current site conditions in detail. Could you please clarify what you mean by a “tenant-confirmation screenshot”?
6. Daily-rate schedule for drying equipment **plus** written assurance that no “no-access” surcharge will be levied without a Tribunal order As previously mentioned, FIXD is the contractor appointed by the Owners Corporation (OC), and the OC will be covering the cost of the scheduled works. Could you please clarify the relevance of the “daily-rate schedule for drying equipment”? There will be no additional charges incurred, provided FIXD is granted access in accordance with the Notice of Entry and there are no delays caused by restricted access or obstruction to the repair process.

_No bundle → No entry → Call-out fee remains fictional._

**Provisional window (if items 1–6 arrive):** **Wed 9 Jul 2025, 15 : 30 – 19 : 00 AEST****

**Retaliatory warning** Your 27 Jun 15 : 09 email (“...deduct from your bond...”) breaches s 264 RTA. Any repeat—or any attempt to impose daily drying fees without prior disclosure—will trigger my application for penalty units and costs.

**Non–confirmation notice** Until items 1–6 are supplied, this email does **not** constitute consent.

Key verbatim excerpts for easy reference:

- *Exh A – 16 Jun 04 : 37 (tenant)* “any update ... I’ll reply before 12 : 00 ...”
- *Exh B – 16 Jun 11 : 52 (agent)* “Thanks so much ... **for confirming**** ...”
- *Exh C – 23 Jun 14 : 35 (agent)* “remediation work ... 24 Jun 08 : 30 ... provide access ...”
- *Exh D – 27 Jun 15 : 09 (agent)* “**we will deduct it from your bond****.”

Your own notices concede the job “might be extended subject to the length of the drying process” yet provide no timeline or cost caps. Please resolve that conflict by supplying items 1–6 above.

Hi Chawakorn & Matthew,

Good afternoon and hope you all are well.

Quick update, we have served 3 x notice of entry today via registered post (please refer to the files attached).

FIXD will need access to the property at 8AM on 7 July 2025, and for the rest of the week as mentioned in the notice.

This will be the first stage of remediation work, which is to treat the mould and bring the moisture level down.

They might not need to be in the property for the entire 9 hours in the first few days, but they will need access to check the moisture level in daily basis.

Please be advised that if FIXD is unable to commence the work due to deny of access, the minimum labour charge applies and the cost will be forwarded to you.

Please let us know if you have any questions about this. Thank you.

Hi Matthew & Chawakorn,

Good morning and hope you are well.

I have received the reply from FIXD Trade Group – contractor appointed by the OC for the repair. I have asked for the project timeline, and below is the reply:

Please see below extract from our scope of works sent to Highrise Strata.

The drying process is essential for ensuring all affected building materials return to pre-loss moisture levels. However, the length of drying time may vary depending on external factors such as weather conditions and moisture content. FIXD is not responsible for delays in drying due to uncontrollable factors. Monitoring will be conducted daily, and any necessary adjustments/cost variations will be communicated promptly. FIXD will not be held responsible for any pre-existing conditions discovered during the course of remediation, including but not limited to structural defects, non-compliant installations, or prior water damage. Any discoveries will be communicated to the insured, and additional works may be required outside the scope of this project.

We cannot provide a timeline as per your request due to the existing site constraints and nature of the damages.

Please note, once drying equipment is on-site, it is charged per day. If access is not provided as required by our team, extra charges may be applicable to the renters for not providing access.

Hi Chawakorn,

Since no access was given on 24 June 2025, the contractor has sent us the attached invoice. Please advise whether you would like to pay them directly. Otherwise, the OC will settle with FIXD and on-charge the amount to Lot 1803A, and the rental provider will be seeking reimbursement from you. Please advise, thank you.

Hi Matthew,

Thank you for your call earlier.

I have confirmed with the contractor from FIXD Trade Group, the work is now scheduled for 7 July 2025.

This is the exact same job scope, which was scheduled for 24 June 2025, but no access was granted that day.

The work consists of few stages, and the trade will not be able to send me the timeline until he is back to the office tomorrow.

On 7 July 2025, the work will be mould remediation, which is to bring the moisture level in the affected bedroom down.

Once the moisture level is at the appropriate level, the damage rectification job will be commenced (wall repair & etc).

FIXD Trade Group will need multiple entries for the entire repair work.

Once I have received the timeline from them, I will forward it across so that we are all on the same page.

If you need any further details, please feel free to reach out, thanks!

Subject: Re: RDRV - Case RT252398 - 33 Camberwell Rd, Hawthorn East, VIC, 3123

Dear Matthew,

I just received your email about closing my case and I'm quite confused. I thought getting a repair date was just the beginning of solving my problems, not the end.

**The key issues I still need help with are:****

- Compensation for 70+ days of paying full rent for an unusable bedroom
- Where to stay during repairs (the agency hasn't provided any solution for this yet)
- This has now affected my studies – my college contacted me this week about urgent matters

**I don't understand – does getting a repair date mean I can't ask about these other problems anymore?****

Thank you so much for arranging the July 7th repair after you contacted them. It's amazing they could suddenly arrange it after saying they needed 6–7 business days when I was asking, and I'd already waited over two months.

I also wanted to mention that I haven't been able to confirm access for the repairs yet because the agency hasn't answered any of my previous questions about what exactly will happen during the repairs or what solutions they'll provide. From what I understand, my flatmate and I will need to leave our rooms during the work, which is quite a big decision that affects both our daily lives directly. I don't think it makes sense for me to confirm anything when I haven't received any information about the details or arrangements.

I'm very sorry if I'm completely misunderstanding how this process works. As an international student who has never dealt with anything like this before, I realize I probably don't understand what VCAT can and cannot help with. I was hoping you might be able to guide me about what's reasonable to expect, but I understand if I'm asking for things that aren't part of your role.

Should I just accept whatever happens with the repairs and forget about the past 70+ days and other problems? I don't want to cause trouble, but it doesn't feel right to just forget everything that happened.

I'm quite overwhelmed and honestly don't know what to do about the compensation and accommodation issues. Could you please help me understand if there are options to address these concerns even if the repairs get scheduled?

I hope it's okay to communicate in writing as phone conversations are difficult for me with serious matters. I don't have friends or family here who understand these problems, so I'm trying to figure everything out alone.

Thank you for your patience with me.

Thank you,
Chawakorn Kamnuansil

Hi Matthew,

Thank you for your email.

I have spoken with them yesterday morning and they have advised that due to their tight schedule, they will have to look into their booking and let us know when is the next available date.

The contractor advised that the next available date should be within the next 6–7 business days.

Since I haven't received any confirmation, I have just sent another email to the OC and the contractor, asking them to provide a date & time.

I will let you know once I have heard back from them.

Thank you.
